WAKEFIELD POLICE DEPARTMENT OFFICE OF THE CHIEF

One Union Street, Wakefield, Massachusetts, 01880

January 2017 Highlights

On January 15th multiple officers responded to a residence on Byron Street for an out of control male party. Upon arrival they were met by a man who was out of control and swearing at officers. It was soon determined that this individual suffers from mental health issues. He was threatening Officers Shawn Conway, Russell Carman, Matt Powers, and Officer Kelley Tobyne. This individual continued his belligerent behavior and approached in close proximity with clinched fists and appeared to be preparing for an assault on officers. They were able to take him to the ground without injury. As officers continued to deal with this behavior, one of our (CIT) members Officer Rob Haladay was working in the station and assisted with the filing for an emergency committal to the hospital with Eliot Community Human Services. He was transported without incident.

On January 11, 2017 Officer John Whaley was on patrol on Salem Street when his attention was drawn to two males that were standing outside of a Toyota Camry that was parked at a local gas station. The two males were looking around nervously while one was manipulating a cell phone. Although they were parked adjacent to a pump, neither individual was pumping gas. Shortly thereafter a gray Honda Accord pulled up next to them. One of the males entered the Accord and then exited after a short period. Based on his training and experience, Officer Whaley believed that a drug transaction had just taken place. The Honda Accord exited the lot and accelerated onto the highway heading south on Route 128 while the Camry exited and headed east on Salem Street. With additional units in the area, motor vehicle stops were conducted on both vehicles. As officers spoke with all parties involved it was clear that their stories were inconsistent with one another. Further investigation by Officer Whaley resulted in him locating several large bundles of money totaling over $6,000. At this time he requested the assistance of a narcotics K9. Officer Ellenton and K9 Stryka of the Danvers Police Department responded to his location which resulted in the K9 alerting to the dashboard area of the vehicle. Following this the Accord was seized and held at WPD headquarters pending a search warrant application which was later secured by Wakefield Detectives. With additional assistance from the Sergeant Panzini and K9 Xando of the Everett Police Department, a "drug hide" was located behind the center console. Stashed inside of this was over $28,000 cash and 200 Oxycodone pills. The vehicle was seized and this individual from Methuen is now facing felony Drug Trafficking charges.

On January 26th Officer Matt Warren was dispatched to Shaw's for a report of a shoplifting of baby formula and the suspect had fled toward Nahant Street possibly in an older model Toyota. Soon thereafter Officers Warren, Gerry Holleran, and Detective Jack Ryan were able to locate a male party fitting the description walking on Harding Road. Officers were able to observe several items bulging out of the pockets of his jacket. Further investigation resulted in locating 21 bottles of baby formula with a total value of $350. He was taken into custody with charges filed through Malden District Court.

On January 29th Sergeant Mike Ryan and Officers Kyle Meehan, Shane Pelletier, and John Whaley were dispatched to Eaton Street for a report that a female in a parked motor vehicle was approached by a male in plain clothes claiming to be a Wakefield Police Officer. The suspect was known to the responders and Officer Meehan was able to observe him leaving the area operating a Nissan sedan. He was able to conduct a motor vehicle stop on Eaton Street as the subject was attempting to flee the area. Further investigation resulted in this party being taken into custody for Operating Under the Influence of Liquor and Impersonating a Police Officer. He was transported to the station where he was extremely combative and struggled with officers in the booking room. They were forced to use their department issued pepper spray in order to gain further control of the subject.

During the month of January School Resource Officer and CIT member Kelly T Byrne was busy instructing mental health classes. On January 23rd and 25th she presented an 8-hour "Youth Mental Health First Aid" training to members of the staff from the Lucius Beebe Library. Off. T Byrne is a certified instructor for this class and has taught multiple times here in Wakefield over the last several years to various local groups. This was once again met with rave reviews. On January 28th she presented a 2-hour "Mental Health 101" training along with Donna Kausek, a licensed Mental Health Counselor from Eliot Community Human Services, to approximately 30 staff members of the Interfaith Food Pantry to help better assist some of their customers.

In mid-January, nearly 1,000 activity books were donated to the Wakefield Police Department. The books were designed and donated by Roberta Saphire, who hosts a local television show in Sharon, "The Law, Your Money, and You!" that informs the public on a variety of topics, including state laws, scams and identity theft, and tips for small businesses. Ms. Saphire coordinated with Lt. Scott Reboulet to bring the books to Wakefield. Each "Police Officers Are Our Friends" book is customized to include specific members of the Wakefield Police Department, along with places and events in town. The activity book is designed to not only educate children about the department, but to foster relationships between young citizens and police. The department's elementary school resource officer will distribute some of the books to students, and additional copies will be available in the station's lobby.

Detective Ken Silva was in Washington D.C. during the week of January 15th along with members of the NEMLEC Regional Response Team for the Presidential Inauguration. He was sworn in as a temporary Deputy United States Marshal along with approximately 3,500 officers from around the country for the events that were held over several days. We are proud of his work and glad that he made it home safely.

The Wakefield Police Department completed another successful Rape Aggression Defense (RAD) class during the month of January. Eight women from our community completed this intense self-defense course between January 3rd and January 12th. This is a challenging course both physically and mentally. Upon completion of the course, women feel empowered knowing they have the skills and confidence to protect themselves. Their sense of accomplishment is shared by the Wakefield Police RAD instructors.

Congratulations to Detective Jack Ryan for receiving the "Officer of the Quarter" award for outstanding performance. Detective Ryan has been with the WPD for 17 years, prior to that he worked for the Boston Housing Police Department for several years. He has been involved in countless major cases and has been instrumental in the apprehension of many serious criminals due to his investigative talents. Most recently he was assisting another agency with the arrest of a violent felon when this individual pulled out a knife and began threatening officers in a small apartment. Detective Ryan risked his own safety and was able to pull an innocent family member out of harms way and then assist with securing this individual without injury to anyone involved.

Respectfully Yours,
